Paul (lat. paulus »der Kleine«): Die Verehrung des Apostels Paulus (– er hieß vor seiner Bekehrung Saulus!) kommt in der Namengebung erst im 15. Jh. (nach der des Petrus!) zur Geltung; auch die Peter-Paul-Kirche in Lg. hieß im 14. Jh. nur Petri-Kirche. Von der einstigen Beliebtheit in der Ostkirche zeugen zahlr. ostd.-slaw. FN., auch das sprichwörtl. »Pawel u. Gawel« (Paulus u. Gallus) für »Hinz u. Kunz«. Zu Pawel vgl. Pawlick, Pawellek, Pavlitschek, Paulig u. ä. Ndd. ist die zerdehnte Form Pagel (älter Pawel). Lat. Genitiv zeigt Pauli, Pauly. Dazu die Patr. Pauls (fries. Pauels, Paugels), holst.-fries. Paulsen (Paulsohn, wie Heinsohn), obd. Pauler, in Tirol Pahler. Zum Pole Poppenspäler b. Th. Storm vgl. schon 1359 Pole Partzow (Knappe). S. auch Pabel, Pavel, Paschke. Alem-.frk. begegnet mundartl. auch Pa(h)l, vgl. »an sant Pals gassen«/Würzbg. Ostpr.-lit. sind Paulat, -eit: »Paulsohn«.

Paulini: rhein. Heil. N. Paulinus (Bischof v. Trier, 4. Jh.); vgl. Kloster Paulinzella/Thür. Dazu rhein. Paulin, Peulen.

Paulitschke (ostd.-slaw.) = Pavlitschek, s. Paul! Paulisch, Paulusch (m. slaw. Suffix -isch, -usch) sind gleichfalls ostd., für Pawlusch, wie Paulack für Pawlak u. Paulick (Sa.) für Pawlik.

Paulmann (= Paul) ist häufig im Raum Hann./Brschwg.

Paulsen (Schlesw.-Holst.) s. Paul! Vgl. Petersen, Thomsen, Claussen usw.

Paulu(h)n: ostpr.-lit. zu Paul, wie Steppun zu Stephan.

Paumann s. Baumann! Paur (Bay., Ö.) s. Bauer!

Pausch s. Bausch u. Bauschke! – Pause: ON. Pausa b. Plauen.

Paus(e)wang wie Pauseback: der Pausbäckige. Vgl. Kolbenheyers Roman »Meister Joachim Pausewang« (1936). Caspar Pausewang 16. Jh. Löwenberg/Schles. Pusback um 1400 in Bambg., Würzbg., Schweinf.

Paust (ostd.-slaw.) neben Pust (Stettin oft) beruht auf wend. pûst, poln. pusty »wüst, öde« (vgl. ON. Pustar, Pustow/Pomm. u. ä.). S. aber auch ndd. Püst!

Paustian, Baustian s. Bastian! – Pawel, Pavel, Pawelke, Pawlik u. ä. s. Paul!

Payr (Bay., Ö.) s. Bayer!

Paysen, Paisen (Schlesw.-Holst., Hbg.): dän. Patr., vgl. Jens Paysen 1588 Flsbg.

Peccatel: wend. ON./Meckl. (Peckatel, 2mal).

Pech, Peche, Pecht, Päch(t), Pechan, Pechmann gehören im schles.-böhm.-laus. Raum zur tschech. KF. Pech (Pecha) für Peter. Vgl. Pecha Halayter (Heuleiter) = Pesco Halater 1371/74 Mies, Pecho v. Nogabczicz 1404, Pech (Bauer) 1410 Chrosczina, Pech kmet Gemilnic 1463. Zu Pechan vgl. Jachan (Jacha = Joh.), Michan u. ä., zu Pechmann: Jachmann, Lachmann u. ä., zu Pechatschek: Machatschek. Zu Pech(h)old vgl. Mach(h)old (Mach = Matthias). Neben Pechan auch Pichan, vgl. Pechel: Pichel, Pechmann: Pichmann.

Pecher, obd.: der Pechsammler, -brenner, vgl. Pöchtrager (mhd. becherer); nicht zu verwechseln mit Becherer »Bechermacher«, s. dies! In Kolin 1385 Wenczl Pecher neben Nic. Pecherer 1368; dazu als Spottname: Nic. Pechindertaschen 1382 D.-Brod.; in Brsl. 1363 Nic. Pechwinkel (dort gab es 6 Pechhütten), in Lg. 1374 Her Fredr. vom Pechwinkel, vereinzelt wohl auch Pechman (1240 Prag, 1347 Lg., 1363 Brsl.). Pechlöffel meint den Pecharbeiter, bzw. den Schuster, vgl. Pikkendrat. – Pechstein s. Bechstein! – Pechtold s. Bechtold! Pechül: ON. Pechüle b. Jüterbog.

Peck (obd.) s. Beck!

Pedersen (dän.) s. Petersen!

Pee(c)k, Peckholz: ndd. (mnd. pêk) = Pike, Spieß, (Peke 1419 Barth) also ÜN. des Spießmachers (vgl. auch Schacht!). Deutlich ist Hence Pekeschacht 1263 Ro. (»Spießschaft«) u. Sifridus Pekholt (Pikholt) 1252/66 Hbg. Vgl. »ein pek von 16 voeten«, »harnisch, peyke, bussen, armborste«.

Peer, Peers, Peersman (ndd.-fries.) = Peder(s): Peter(s).

Peetz (Hbg. oft): ON., wie Peetzig/Pomm. Peest (Hbg.): ON. b. Köslin.

Peffgen (ndrhein.) s. Paff (Pfaff)! – Peffer (rhein.) s. Pfeffer.

Hi Frances,

This is Donna writing for my mother. She is doing fine and asked me to relay the following information:

Her father's name was Frederick (middle name unknown). He did have brothers and sisters who never came to the U.S. Mother does not know any of their names, nor how many there were. She does not know any of the people Friedrich was born in Posan Germany. So I am sorry to say I don't think I can help you. But maybe you will find something that will tie us together.

Well must stop and get some work done.

Good Luck.

Sincerely.

Debbie Palguta

Dear Frances,

Sorry about this paper, but it was all I could find. We have moved! Our new address is 55596 Country Club Rd. S. Bend, IN 46619.

I have been working on family history for about 10 years. I am 32 years old. But I have done very little research on the Kunde side of my family. A relative of mine in California did most of the research I have. She wrote a book. The page I sent you last time was from that book. Her name is Dorothy Kunde Gunn. I don't know her address, but I have enclosed copies of the important pages for you. As you can see

Dear Frances:

So surprised to hear from you. Yes, I have access to an LDS library about 45 miles from here and go weekly. I have been working through them for several years now. In fact, I have been searching through passenger lists on microfilm trying to find the Barfelz family. So far nothing.

I wrote to Sue McLaughlin in March, but never heard from her. Mother sent me your letter with all that information in it. I had most of it. I wrote to Poland, but they want me to hire one of their genealogists at $30 an hour. I don't want to do that as I know that the records for Nemitz were destroyed in World War II. I am ordering some films for Kazsalin, Poland, where I believe Carl Barfelz came from.

Since I am working on almost a dozen "trees" at the same time, I don't have the resources or time to devote to one tree and that's frustrating sometimes. But I know with time and perserverance, we'll come up with lots more information on this family. I have received some new sources of information for Poland, which is where Pomerania is now located.

I haven't turned up anything new, but if I should get lucky, I'll pass it on.

Thanks for writing and please do keep in touch from time to time.

Dear Frances:

Received your letter and know mother received hers also. What a surprise to know someone else is tracing the family tree. It is a difficult one to trace too, I might add. I have been working on all of my family trees for about ten years now and this line and the Dombrow have been the most difficult. I do not know if I have any additional information to offer, but would be most willing to share what I have. I would be most happy to pay for copies of the pictures you have.

I have tried to piece together the story of Minnie also, but haven't come up with anything. She was not shown on the census for 1900 or 1910, but Augusta shows she was the mother of 9 children and 4 living in 1900, but then all 4 were accounted for not including Minnie. Confusing!

As for Grandpa Barfelz, I have a copy of his citizenship papers also, they state that he left from the port of Bremen in Germany. The majority of those port records were destroyed. So much for that lead. Do you know what port they entered in the U.S.? I haven't had any luck with immigration.

I have copies of birth, death, census, newspaper obituaries and some other notes. If you would like copies, let me know and I will send them to you. I haven't worked on this line for awhile as I have so many to try to keep up with. I also research based on my finances. I want to try to get some records from Germany, but it will take some time. But with both of us working on it, we may come up with some new information yet.

I was so happy for mother that she finally found some of her family. She has never really said so, but I think that deep down inside she has always wondered about her "roots". Now with all this new information, she is very confused as she is hearing things she never knew about or wasn't told about. Hopefully, for her peace of mind, together we can untangle this mystery for her.

Thanks so much for writing and I do intend to keep in touch.

Sincerely,

Barbara

Here is the information I already have on my German/Polish ancestors. I am trying to get further and more accurate information on the family and ancestors of my grandparents. I would like to trace ancestors and perhaps find lioving relatives.

Carl August Barfelz (my grandfather)
born 12 Dec. 1864
Pomeran, Prussia

he was a twin -- other twin (Albert ?) died shortly after birth. also had two brothers -- one a minister and one owned a slipper factory

also had two sisters: Minna born 1872 married August Ramien
Amelia born 1877 married Frederick Patzloff

his parents: Carl Barfelz and Frederika Drefke or Treff. His mother died in 1877 when daughter Amelia was born. His father remarried.

married in 1888: Augusta Kunde (my grandmother)
born 15 August 1864
her parents: Gottlieb Kunde and Charlotte Knope
lived in Bublitz (?)

My grandfather was in the army. While in Germany, he suffered a serious accident to his head. His wife, Augusta, had had a daughter, Minnie, born, according to church records here, on 30 October 1884 at Leikow which is now Lejkowo in the provice of Koszalin, before this marriage and she had to give up the child to her brother Ernest Kunde and his wife because her husband (my grandfather) was so seriously ill. A daughter, Anna was born to them on 23 December 1889 also at Leikow.

In May of 1893, my grandparents plus their daughter, Anna, and my grandmother´s mother, Charlotte Knope Kunde (chuch records here show she was born at Klein Soltiko which now is Sulechowko in the provice of Kosalin) along with my grandmother´s brother, Ernest Kunde and his family, came to the United States from the German port of Hamburg aboard the ship Polynesia. They landed in Baltimore, Maryland and came across the country to Bridgman, (Berrien) Michigan. Their passage was paid for by a man named Gast, and they worked out the passage for several years until they could buy land and work for themselves.

The only other information I have is names of places taken from some old photographs brought to this country by the Ramien family in 1921. They are:

Pollnow, Pommern, Landsberg, Konigsberg, Jerusalemer, Posen, Elbing, Braunsberg, Butow, Coslin.

Any information you can furnish or any leads you give me to gain further information on any of this family will be greatly appreciated. Perhaps you can furnish names and addresses of relatives whom I can also contact.

Hi,

Hope you can follow this rambling letter. I'm having trouble with Carpal tunnel (wrist) & have to write a little at a time. Here is the translation of the document you sent and pictures of us, youngest son & pictures of Chandler house.

Alan worked as a warehouseman for Coca-Cola in OKC. & ruptured 3 vertabra, on the job. It took 3 years to settle, and he couldn't get any assistance because Coke wouldn't terminate him, till the Comp. case was settled. His lawyer advised us to attach the settlement (with Alan's Consent) as payment for supporting his family for 3 years. It worked and we paid cash for 3 HUD rentals in OKC. Alan & his family live in 1 and he is receiving welfare benefits & going to School to retrain; as he is 90% disabled. The rentals

are in our name
till Alan gets on his feet. We hope to buy 3 more houses in 3-5 years so he will have an income if things don't work out for him. That's how we became Slum landlords!

The oldest son, Max, lives in OKC and works for a company that makes cabinets and does photography in his spare time. I don't have any current photos of Max & his family, as he has been divorced 2 years. He plans to remarry in May. We will attend the wedding in OKC & are looking forward to seeing everyone. We have met his future wife & feel he is lucky to have her.

Come see us in Oklahoma in 1994 or. California in 1993.

Love,
Gwen & Gale

P.S.
Sandra & cheryl & hubbies plan to come to Max's wedding, so we should all have fun!

Kunde
Frances Unruh

I'll try to put the rest in some order, as I have it.

Grandma Barfelz's parents' names were Gotlieb Kunde & Charlotte Knope.
Ernest was her older brother (April 11, 1861- May 28, 1936)
Charles was younger (his ~~[illegible]~~ name could have been Carl - he was born around 1868) His wife's name is listed on the census as Mary. (My Mother called her Aunt MITZA)

Grandpa's parents were Carl Barfelz & Fredrika Drefke.
His sister Amelia married Frederick Patzlaff.
ch/ ① Frank
② Anna Gundlack (I still hear from her)
③ Erma Talbot
④ Paul

Grandpa Barfelz also had another sister (I don't know her first name), & she married a man named Ramine. Her son's name was Robert, & his children's names were Erik, Kurt, & Bertha.

In addition to his twin brother (Albert) who died in infancy, Grandpa Barfelz also had at least 2 brothers who remained in Germany. One owned a shoe factory, & the other was a minister. Frank Patzlaff used to write to one of them, but his family can't find a name or address now.

I don't know how Iva feels about the family, so if you write to her, tell her I'd like to hear from her. I have a copy of her parents' wedding picture, if she would like it.

Susie

They also had daughter named HERTHA. When I was growing up - they lived ~~the~~ on Pearl St. - 400 block HERTHA worked at IAGGI Jewelry - downtown St. Jo. when Mrs. Iaggi died, she married Mr. Iaggi & retired to Fla. I may be able to get some info on her. Will try!

Hi --

I´m coming back again to try and get some information from you that you may not even know you have. Sometimes it is just that little bit that you know and I don´t know that will make all the difference in locating our ancestors.

For instance, I visited Anna (Patzloff) Gundlock awhile back in St. Petersburg and she said that she didn´t know anything -- BUT -- she assumed that I knew that great-grandmother Barfelz had died when her own mother, Amelia, was born. This told me that Amelia was the youngest Barfelz child; she was born in 1877 when her mother died; and our Carl Barfelz had a stepmother.

So -- put on your thinking caps. I want you to remember all you can about the Barfelz/Kunde families. Birth, marriage, death dates, places, middle names. Anything you can scrounge up. I also need all this type of information on your parents, grandparents, other family members. When trying to read these old German records, I don´t have much to go on except I can usually read the names. Having some dates or places would help.

And that brings me to what I´ve just found -- the attached record from Kosalin, Poland microfilm. I think it is our family and had someone translate it and this is what they came up with:

Leikow on 2 April 1875 -- Appeared before the Townhall Agent personally, Miss Charlotte Kunden (nee) Knop (a female dayworker) who lived in Leikow and her husband, Z____ Gottlieb Kunden 48 years of age of the Evangelish (Lutheran) Religion who lives in Leikow who born in Leikow and got married in Leikow and were married in a church, A____.
He is son of Herthen Ludwig Kunden and his wife Sophia Kunden (nee) Zuchel of Leikow on the first day of April One thousand eight hundred seventy and five Noontime at 12 o´clock
Read to him and it is understood, undersigned scribe official (of the Town)
X X X indicates parties unable to sign the form.

Question: Augusta, daughter, was born in 1864 -- if these are her parents, didn´t they get married until 1875? Was this second marriage for Gottlieb? Or could this just be a registration of their marriage? What do you think?

I have written to this place in Poland but may not receive an answer as I´ve done this before and sent money and then no replies. So I´m going to have to depend on what information you can furnish. PLEASE let m~~w~~ ME hear from you as soon as possible! Thank you.

P.S. Remember, I also need YOUR family info -- full names, birth, death, marriage dates and places. Your info just might be the key to finding all the info I need to complete this family record!

Here is the information I already have on my German/Prussian ancestors. I am trying to gain more accurate information on the family and ancestors of both my grandparents.

Grandfather:
Carl August BARFELZ
born 12 Dec. 1864
Pomeran, Prussia (I assume--this is where he said he came from)

he was a twin -- other twin (Albert ?) died shortly after birth.
also had two brothers -- one a minister and one owned a slipper factory. I do not believe they ever came to the United States also had two sisters)	Minna	born 1872 mar. August RAMIEN who both came to U.S.)	Amelia	born 1877 mar. Frederick PATZLOFF

Great Grandparents:
Carl BARFELZ and Frederika DREFKE or TREFF. Frederika died in 1877 when daughter Amelia was born. Father remarried.

Grandmother: married in 1888: Augusta KUNDE
born 15 August 1864

Great Grandparents:
Gottlieb KUNDE and Charlotte KNOPP
(see attached sheet)

While my grandfather, Carl BARFELZ, was in the army he suffered a serious injury to his head. My grandmother, his wife, Augusta, had had a daughter, Minnie, born before this marriage and according to Lutheran church records in Bridgman (Berrien) Mich. upon her confirmation, had been born 30 October 1884 at Leikow. This child was given to her brother, Ernest KUNDE and his wife, because her husband (my grandfather) was so seriously ill. Another daughter, Anna, was born to this couple on 23 December 1889 also at Leikow.

In May of 1893, my grandparents plus their daughter, Anna, and my grandmother´s mother, Charlotte KNOPP KUNDE (Lutheran church records in Bridgman show she was born at Klein Soltiko) along with my grandmother´s brother, Ernest KUNDE and his family, came to U.S. from German port of Hamburg aboard the ship Polynesia. They landed in Baltimore, MD and came across the country to Bridgman, Mich. Their passage was paid for by a man named GAST, and they worked out the passage for several years until they could buy land for themselves.

The only other information I have is names of places taken from some old family photographs (unidetified) brought to this country by the RAMIEN family in 1921. They are:

Pollnow, Pommern, Landsberg, Konigsberg, Jerusalemer, Posen, Elbing, Braunsberg, Butow, Coslin.

Any information you can furnish or any leads you give me to gain further information on any of this family will be greatly appreciated.

Aunt Frances -

Hope this helps. Some of the information is spotty & incomplete, but I'm still working on it.

Grandma Barfelz (Augusta Kunde) was engaged to a man named Walters - I don't know his first name. She became pregnant with his child before they were married. A short time before the wedding, Mr. Walters was killed in an accident. Aunt Minnie was born after he died. (Since Aunt Minnie was born on Oct. 30, 1884, he must have died earlier that year.) Grandma & Grandpa Barfelz were married in 1888. I've heard two different endings to this story. One was that Grandpa wouldn't accept Aunt Minnie as part of his family, and made Grandma send Aunt Minnie to live with her relatives. The other is that after they were married, Grandpa Barfelz fell & had quite a bad head injury. Grandma Barfelz couldn't support Aunt Minnie & take care of Grandpa too, so she sent her to live with her brother, Ernest Kunde. From what I've heard about Grandpa Barfelz, I think both stories are probably true. Anyway, Aunt Minnie continued to live with her uncle, Ernest Kunde (Grandma's brother). She came with them when they moved to the Bridgman area, & I assume stayed with them until she married Charles Weyland

I remember being told this - was supposed to account for his violent temper!

Do you have inf on him?

Fran,

Recieved your letter. I am not into geneaology. I believe in recording today and letting the past lie quietly.

I learned my lesson when I recorded the family tree for Al's family. I went back only to the marriage of his folks.

Some of his nieces got real feisty and nasty when they were asked to furnish information about their families. I ended up recording them only as daughters of Al's sister.

If more ~~m~~ people would record today instead of yesterday our decendants would not have to go through all this work and it would be more accurate.

I want to caution you about recording anything about the living without their permission. If information was not provided by the individual or the nearest next of kin of a deceased person I did not record it. There could be some repercussions if there ~~pappened~~ happened to be an error in your recordings.

I read some of the notes posted on the geneaology board on Prodigy. Some of those people actually state they have traced their ancestry back to Adam and Eve. Prodigy cautions them about putting too much faith in records that may not be accurate but there are always some who do.

One of Al's nephews bought a book on the Hauch family and the information in it is not accurate and it is about people who are now alive.

If you were to check the records of birth, confirmation etc at the court house on my Al, you would find that he has three different names. Our lawyer has told us that the only true identity of a person is his social security number.

Years ago births were recorded from the information picked up in conversations overheard by the Doctor. I'm sure there are a lot of people who are not recorded correctly.

Another thing that has always frusterated me is the Catholic people. They have their birth name, their confirmation name, and they then usually go by another name. I don't know if the boys are that way but I do know the girls are.

By the way when you checked the records in Bridgman did you find any record of our Mothers having another sister? Your Mother told me that they had a sister by the name of Mati. Your Mother told me she was a younger sister and she was buried in Bridgman. My Mother was already in a nursing home when your Mother told me this and I did not feel it was the time to question her about it.

The story about Minnie is another one that turns me off. I happen to know that your Mother and my Mother were told that Minnie was their sister just before Grandma died. She had been raised as their cousin by the Kunde family. Your Mother told me that she had known about Minnie all along. I believe she knew her but she did not know she was her sister.

If you had Prodigy you could probably find a lot of information, It probably wouldn't be accurate tho.

Since "Slippery Willie" got in there has even been some questions about the accuracy of the "Census" which has been taken over the years.

We have been having some very cold near 0° weather lately. I am really looking forward to Spring this year. It can't come too soon.

Norm is doing pretty good after his operation. His biggest problem seems to be his wrist which he injured last fall. Using a walker puts undo pressure on it.

Todays paper had Huldina Strasburgs death. She was Dr Phillip Strasburgs wife.

Please excuse my penmanship. It isn't what it used to be.

I thaught I better let you know I got your letter. But I am Sorry I can't help you with what you are trying to do.

The Names you ask about are all some of the Kunde clan. I don't know how. So much for that. I stoped to see Wendy and she dug up Madelines part of the family. And said she was going to send it to you. That is a lot more than I ever new.

I dont get around very good any more. I have artherites it catches up with me at times. But Rich. is in pretty bad shape And I have to help him quite a bit. You know he had heart surgery and came out real good. He was out of the Hospital in 6 days. next he had an artery in his neck opened that broke open the night before he was to come home. That set him back about a week. That hapened in the middle of the night.

Now He has spurs on his spine and they can't remove them. over so he is in terrific pain all the time and walks all bent over.

The nerves in his feet and legs are dyeing. that makes it harder to. get around. I got him a lift chair for Xmas so he can get out of a chair. That makes it a little easier on me. I just have to wait on him while setting down.

That is enough our troubles we sold our farm. And only have a house and lot to take care of. thats one good thing.

Sorry I can't help you any more But I never knew very much about any of that stuff.

Bye now
Esther

For most North Americans, it is not a stretch to say that German research almost revolves around the materials and collections of the renown Family History Library in Salt Lake City. Staffed, funded, and administered by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the worlds largest genealogical repository also includes the largest single collection of German genealogical records. In addition to parish registers from virtually every German state and province, and many German areas in other countries, the Library also houses one of the best collections of published material for German research in North America. Many of their reference tools are very rare and difficult to obtain elsewhere, such as parish register inventories.

Fortunately, almost all of the German material available in the Family History Library in Salt Lake City, Utah, is also available on microfilm through a network of more than 3,400 Family History Centers worldwide. It is important to realize that much of the research material researchers need for on-going German research, is readily available through the Family History Library.

FamilySearch: The Basic German Toolbox

The Library also sponsors one of the most significant Internet web sites in the entire field of genealogy, FamilySearch.org <www.familysearch.org> The cumulative total of names in the various databases approaches one billion. With some of those databases and the Family History Library Catalog, also available on-line, the web site is one of the most significant for German research anywhere on the web.

FamilySearch is a "tool box" with many genealogical tools. Like all tools, their use is limited only by the ability of the craftsman. An excellent genealogist knows the limitations of each tool while a poor genealogist expects the tools to do the work by themselves. This lecture looks at the files on this system, teaches how to evaluate the information in these databases, and how to locate the original sources of the information, specifically for Germanic ancestors.

The Whys and Wherefores of FamilySearch

FamilySearch is an Internet site (www.familysearch.org) of the LDS Family and Church History Department (who administer the Family History Library) for automated genealogical data. It consists of powerful search and retrieval programs and large computer files on the Internet. It serves many purposes:

< simplify genealogical research (many sources easily accessed and searched)
< access and store vast amounts of data
< preserve your research and provide easy access for others
< help you coordinate your research with others
< share research through easy download of data for use on home computers

A successful researcher will know all about the files in order to judge the information found.

The current files are:

Ancestral File™
< “Opinion file” of researchers’ findings
< Continuation of century-old efforts to make "previous research" easy to access
< Lineage-linked, “electronic family tree” of more than 35 million individuals
< Merges contributions into one set of data per person/family
< Produces pedigree charts, family groups, descendant charts
< Sent in by researchers since 1977
< Identifies contributor’s name and address
< Closed, static file (no changes or additions at present)
< Living persons not named (to protect privacy)
< Uses GEDCOM standard so user can download to all genealogical programs

Pedigree Resource File
< Multiple “electronic family tree” collections with more than 80 million individuals
< Index online, data on CD-ROMs (protect privacy)
< Contributor’s data is never changed or merged
< Open to on-going submissions (about a million names per month)
< Many include source notes
< Produces pedigree charts, family groups, descendant charts
< Identifies contributor’s name and address

International Genealogical Index
< Birth and/or marriage information for over 600 million deceased persons
< Over 60 million Germanic entries
< Can search by individual's or parent's name
< Limited to deceased persons
< One of largest databases available, but not comprehensive
< Can trace 80%+ to a source
< About half taken from parish and civil registers
< Others sent in by LDS researchers
< Extraction (Indexing) Programs
< Parish and Vital Records Index lists extracted sources fiche only < Finding Germans, including immigrants in the IGI

German Religious Records Collections at the Family History Library

This table provides an overview of the religious records housed at the Family History Library for German states and provinces. For church records, the columns under each denomination, provide the percentage of parishes covered (all available records, or at least some records) as well as the total number of parishes, where known. For some areas, this information is unknown. Numbers in [brackets] indicate the number of parishes in the library's collection, rather than the percentage covered, since such information is not known for those areas.

using Roman type, rather than Fracture

Pub. 1912

Examples of reference entries (dependent communities):
Breitenfeldermoor, Ab., Kr. Rotenburg
Hann., s. Hellwege [chau, s. Landeck.
Breitenfelder Remmen, Ab., Kr. Schlo=

A typical regular entry can include the following elements, in three sections:

Name, (1) topographical description, state, province or district, lesser district office, district court, military command center, and [if not in the town itself:] civil registration office, nearest train station;(2) population; (3) telegraph, postal and/or railroad service; other governmental, cultural, business, or industrial services and facilities in the town [such as civil registry office, parish church, synagogue, schools, banks, industries, etc.]

Understanding an actual entry from Meyers:

Burtenbach, Markt, a/d Mindel; Bay., RB. Schwaben, BA. Günzburg, AG. Burgau, Bkdo. Dillingen, E 6 km Thannhausen a/d Mindel; 1014 E; TP, Pw: 10 km E Jettingen; 8 km E Thannhausen; StdA., ev.Pfk.; Schloss, 2 Elktrwe., SpDrl,; Käsefbr., Brau., Färbn., Mln., Sägewe.

parish church

Interpretation: Burtenbach is a market town on the Mindel River in Bavaria, within the provincial district (Regierungsbezirk) of Schwaben and the local district (BA.) of Günzburg. The district court (AG.) was in Burgau and the military command office in Dillingen. The nearest train station is six kilometers at Thannhausen, also on the Mindel River. It had a population of 1014. Telegraph, postal, and bus service is available to the train station 10 kilometers away at Jettingen, or to the train station 8 kilometers away at Thannhausen. The town has a civil registration office and an evangelical parish. Other features include a castle, two electrical power plants, a bank, cheese factory, brewery, dye shop, mills, and a sawmill.

Additional Considerations
Whenever possible, write your letter in good German.
Beware of the many language translation programs now available as software, or on the Internet.
It is usually best to request a photocopy of the record(s) you desire, whenever possible.

Letter-Writing Guide

Available at www.familysearch.org under "Search" then "Research Helps"

Email Access

First, it is much more immediate.
Second, easier to convey additional information, or to clarify a response, on the part of either the sender or the receiver.
Third, it is much easier to forward, should you have addressed the wrong recipient.
However, it may be difficult to send attachments and you can't send money via email (yet).

Google ?

Be sure to keep a copy of the email (both in and out)

DEUTCHES POST

While institutions often have web sites and receive email, that is not true of most parishes, and churches are often the prime target of German genealogical correspondence. So, first seek a web site for the diocese or the state church offices. Then, seek the web site for the town where they parish is located.

POSTAL CODES
5 digits

Sending Money

Generally, when a German office requests funds, they will almost always suggest that you can deposit the funds directly into their bank account, and will provide you with that account number (Konto Nr.).

When writing to German areas, you can include U.S. cash (such as a five or ten dollar bill), but it is not wise to send larger denominations, due to security issues. Therefore, this avenue is usually best for the initial letter, as it is convenient, and allows you to illustrate your good faith by enclosing funds with the first request.

While it is possible to send personal checks in payment of search fees, this is generally discouraged. Where possible, provide payment in Euros. Major banks can provide a bank draft in Euros,

Can also obtain banknotes or travelers checks in various Euro denominations. In this manner, you can provide exact payment, and cover any exchange fees yourself.

The German language has many similarities to English as both belong to the same family of languages. While there are also significant differences, understanding the similarities will make German seem less formidable, and immediately help you interpret at least half of German words.

Brief History of German Handwriting

Handwriting evolved over time in German speaking countries, just as it did in other countries. By the 1300s, it had become the so-called Gothic script, sometimes called Fraktur. However, that term, Fraktur is now usually used in reference to a printing typeface, normally used in Germany prior to World War II.

Each writer will have his own little quirks and differences from other writers. As education became more universal in the 1800s, handwriting became more standardized, and the records become easier to read. However, it was not until 1941 when the government officially began discouraging the use of the old style Gothic handwriting. Since a more modern Latin style has been taught in the schools for the past 60 years, there are very few persons in Germany, even among some of the record custodians, who can easily read the old records.

Thus, the diligent German researcher has to be almost "self-taught" to read the old style of German handwriting. While it helps to have a good familiarity with the German language, including both the vocabulary and the grammar, it is not necessary. The old German handwriting uses all the same letters found in more modern Latin (or English) writing, along with a couple of extra forms for a couple of letters. The "only" difference is that many of the letters are formed differently, and the words are not English.

Key Reference Book

Dr. Roger P. .Minert, Deciphering Handwriting in German Documents: Analying German, Latin, and French in Vital Records Written in Germany (Woods Cross, Utah: GRT Publications, 2001).

Lower Case Letters

In addition to the 26 letters English readers are familiar with, there are five additional lower case letters in the old German script. Three vowels which sometimes carry the umlaut (two dots) are considered separate letters: ä, ö, ü. In addition, there is a second form for the letter "s" and an entirely different letter which represents a double-s, or "ss." The lower case letters can be divided into five distinct groups. Recognizing the nature of these groups helps the researcher focus on a small number of letters to which the letters in question belong.

Very Similar to Latin Letters

The first group to consider are six letters which appear very similar to English (Latin style) handwriting. This includes the letters: b, i, j, l, m, and n. Despite individual variances in handwriting, these letters should be clearly recognizable to most researchers. These six letters similar to English also appear in the following groups, as appropriate. Recognizing them will aid the researcher in dismissing them en route to correctly identifying other letters.

The other groups all focus on how the letters appear on the page. All letters are said to "sit" on the baseline, which is the straight line (usually just imagined, but actually printed on certain notebook paper) followed in any block of text. From that baseline, each letter either remains only on that line, or may stick up past the midpoint, or descend below the base line where the letters sit.

Fortunately, most German letters are similar enough to English letters that usually the same letters in both languages (both in handwriting and printing) fall into the same classes. The exceptions, discussed below, include h, s, and x.

Midline Letters

The largest group are those letters which are simply written fully between the base line, and the midpoint (called the mid-line) between that base line and the baseline of the next line above. As in English, these midline letters are as follows: a, c, e, i, m, n, o, r, u, v, w, and the three German vowels, which use the umlaut: ä, ö, ü. Note that all the vowels (except the occasional y) and three very common letters (m, n, r) are part of this class of letters. The other letters in this class appear less frequently.

Ascender Letters

Another class of letters include those which have one stroke that ascends (goes up), past the mid-point of the regular line of letters. This includes the letters: b, d, k, l, t and s (but only at the end of a word). In handwritten English, these also are ascender letters, except for the letter s.

Descender Letters

The opposite class of letters are those which have a pen stroke which descends below the base line. Sometimes this descending stroke is called a "tail." These letters include: g, j, p, q, x, y, z. In English handwriting, all of these letters are also descenders, except for x, which has a tail in German script.

Up and Down Strokes

up + down

The final, and smallest, class of lower case letters are the four which have pen strokes which both ascend past the mid-line and descend below the baseline. In English, only the letter f does this. In German, watch for: f, h, s (at the beginning or middle of words), and ss (double-s).

Upper Case Letters

Upper case letters are generally easier to read in the German script than are lower case letters. Part of this is due to the fact that the letters are larger, making them more distinct. Also, many of them bear some resemblance to English (Latin style) capital letters. Furthermore, since they usually appear only with nouns, they are affiliated with words which are often easier to understand, making the letters seem easier to read as well.They also can be grouped into classes, as was done with the lower case letters.

Similar to Latin Script

It's usually best to start with the easiest letters to recognize. Certain capital letters look virtually the same in English (Latin) or the old German handwriting. As you practice these letters, note any minor differences from how you usually write them in English: E, F, J, L, O, R, T, X.

Similar to the Lower Case Letter

Having learned the lower case letters, it should now be fairly easy to enlarge some of those letters to the size of capital letters. The following letters are almost identical as upper case letters as they are in the lower case: A, B, G, Q, V, W, Z, Ä, Ö, Ü.

Comparable to Latin Script

Several other letters of the upper case in old German script bear some resemblance to the Latin characters we use in English. Although they are not identical, a close observation will reveal many commonalities, although the German letters may have an extra loop or cross-bar. These letters include: M, N, P, U, Y.

Very Different Appearance

Well, with 23 out of 29 letters being fairly easy to recognize, that only leaves six letters to struggle with. Even some of these include some elements found in their Latin script versions. However, as you practice, spend more time on these six letters, three of which are very common in German documents: C, D, H, K, S, W.

Abbreviations

Abbreviations are common with most handwritten records. Not recognizing abbreviations often leads to mis-reading the records. Of course, any writer may use personal abbreviations, which are difficult, if not impossible, to interpret without some sort of legend or key. However, over time, certain abbreviations developed within the old German script that are relatively easily understood.

Truncation (Shorten)

Many abbreviations were formed, as they are in English, by simply leaving off the ending, usually the final syllable or two. This is typically indicated by a period (.) or colon (:). Sometimes other punctuation marks were used, such as the comma (,) or the semi-colon (;).

Bar

Where two letters appear together, notably two m's or two n's, the second such letter is often omitted, and the abbreviation shown by drawing a straight line (a bar) over the remaining letter.

Tail

Two common, brief endings on some German words, the -er and -en endings were often omitted and replaced by a kind of tail. For -er the tail is an upward stroke, ending in a loop, while for -en the tail typically is downward, with an upward hook.

Initial

Some of the most popular given names were so common that they were simply abbreviated by the first initial. While M. for Maria, and J. for Johann are the most common, others appear in other records, such as K. for Katherine or W. for Wilhelm. For some names, it may vary from parish to parish. To learn if the abbreviation G. stands for Georg or Gerhart, you will have to examine the records very carefully. In such cases, the abbreviation was not used in all instances, so you can probably find multiple records dealing with the same person, some using the abbreviation and some not. This will allow you to create your own locality-specific list of abbreviations.

Confusing Letters

Although formal instruction books show that each letter is distinct and different, some still look quite similar. Add to this the natural variations found with different scribes, and sometimes one letter is easily mistaken for another. There is even a fictitious word which helps illustrate this fact in the Gothic script. Consider the letter combination: “minnum.”All of the strokes used to create these letters are identical. The only difference is that the letter m has three up strokes, the letter i has a dot, the two n’s have a total of four up-strokes, and the u carries a bow above the letter.

The bow is crucial to separate the letters u and n. However, sometimes, when an umlaut is placed over the u, it can create some confusion. The two dots may be written poorly, and may appear as a bow (a curved line, turned up at the ends, like a smile). However, usually in such a case, the “bow” appears upside down (the curve turns down at the ends, like a frown). Where that appears, consider it to be a poor umlaut.

Other lower case letters that are often confused include f and s, as well as e and u, and even e and r. Upper case letters to watch for include I and J, which are often interchanged in writing. Also, the letter combination St often looks quite a bit like the single letter N.

Numbers and Dates

Understanding the words is, of course, quite important in reading German documents. However, genealogical records almost invariably include numbers and dates which may be expressed differently in Gothic script than in Latin.

Most regular digits (numerals) are quite similar to their Latin version. However, the numbers 1 and 7 are sometimes confused by inexperienced researchers. The number 1 will often have a slight up stroke to begin the number, while 7 usually includes a cross bar in the middle of the stem.

When reading dates, it is important to remember that the days of the week and months of the year are always nouns, so they will be capitalized. Also, there is a finite and known number of them (seven days, twelve months). The German names of most months are quite similar (four are identical) to the English names. However, the last four months are often abbreviated to their old Roman numbers, 7ber, 8ber, 9ber, 10ber (being September through December). Six of the seven days of the week almost always end in -tag, the German word for day. Only Mittwoch (Wednesday) is different, as it is the old German word for “mid-week.”

Tools and Tactics for Reading German Records

German Word List

This handy listing consists of words most commonly found in German genealogical records. It is available in the "Research Helps" section at www.familysearch.org

German-English Dictionary

Sometimes the only way to correctly identify some letters in some documents is to understand what word is being written. After all, despite the handwriting, the document is still written in German, a language whose spelling has been reasonably consistent for many centuries (personal names and places not withstanding). Here is where a good dictionary, or even a genealogical word list will be an important tool. Where possible, have a dictionary specifically designed for genealogists, or which includes older, archaic, terms.

German Grammar

An understanding of the German language, including proper syntax, conjugation of verbs, proper tense of sentences and other grammatical conventions (gender, voice, number, etc.) can greatly aid the reading of old documents. While grammatical rules were not as fixed in earlier years, modern grammar is not significantly different. A typical school grammar guide will likely be sufficient to help you work out many problems.

Gazetteers

Some of the most difficult words to decipher are place names. These are generally unique words which don't appear in dictionaries, and are not part of the standard verbiage of the records. Therefore, they are not as easily read. Knowing the names of nearby villages (as taken off a period map, for example) can help, but often people moved from quite some distance. Knowing the appropriate gazetteers, and how to use them, for the state or province, and having access to them, will allow you to interpret words otherwise unknown. It is important to remember that place names are proper nouns, and should always be capitalized in German records.

Library Catalog or Archive Inventory

Whatever records you are reading, someone has already described them in a library catalog or archive inventory. This description will help you understand the nature of the records, the dates it covers, and the kind of information to expect. Usually North Americans are using microfilm copies of German records, so the library catalog is the best place to find this information. When using the records in an archive, ask for a copy of the description of the records, in order to fully understand the records you are reading.

Useful Tactics for Reading the Records

Identify the Arrangement of the Records

Browse through the records before trying to read them. Determine the general format of the record, as well as any specific order within records. For example, do the records always begin with the date, or with a person's name?

Determine if there are any standardized phrases and words in the records. One entry may be difficult to read, but another entry just a few pages away may be much easier. While the specific person in the record may not be your ancestor, learning the terminology of the entry will help you find and read that same terminology in the entry of interest to you.

Many records are arranged in columns with standard headings. Knowing the content of each column will help you readily read entries of interest. Other records, such as civil registration, may be on pre-printed forms. Here you can interpret the printed language much easier, and can then focus on the handwritten portion in the form's blanks.

Determine if there are any indexes for the record. Finding a person of interest in the index will usually provide not only the page number and date, but also the most common spelling of the name. This may also help you decide how to read certain letters.

Watch for standard elements. Is the age always given in the particular burial records you are searching? Are the witnesses names always given? Is the father's occupation typically recorded?

Most records are arranged chronologically. Don't just try to read one entry of interest. Note the dates in surrounding entries, to make sure you are reading the dates correctly in your entry.

Understand Language and Customs

Make use of the reference tools mentioned above. Create a record-specific vocabulary list with typical words appearing in the record. Then, when you see that word again, you will more readily recognize it.

Be sure you understand the spelling conventions and grammar, including any typical abbreviations. Understand German phonetics as well. Some sounds can be expressed in more than one way. For example, the letters d and t are often interchanged.

Pay attention to the unique characters in German. This includes the three umlauted vowels, as well as certain letter combinations, such as sch- which seldom appear in English. Be certain to distinguish between the ending -s versus the initial and internal s-, or the double -ss.

Watch for any naming customs that appear in the families. Certain given names will be repeated in successive generations. Although Germans don't have a standard naming pattern, as do some other cultures, you may still detect some patterns. Add such names as are common to the family to your record-specific vocabulary list.

Apply Correct Mechanics

This is a "catch-all" group of tactics that address some of the physical constraints we can modify in our research. For example, don't force the answer to come when dealing with a particularly difficult entry. Move on to other entries. Often you need to become more familiar with the words, names, and handwriting style in that particular record.

Sometimes the image you are working with is poor. There are several ways in which you can improve the image. If you are using a microfilm reader, try a different reader with a brighter light bulb, or with a better focus. Sometimes a light pastel paper, for the projection background will bring out difficult letters. You may be able to scan the image into your computer, and then improve the image with computer software.

Scan other pages for the words or letters you cannot recognize. The words may be more clear on another page, or the letter may be more obvious when found in a different word.

It may be useful to trace over some of the letters, words, and even entire entries in the record. As you trace those letters, you will better understand what the original writer was recording, and then be able to read that letter or word.

The two most important records for researching German ancestors are the civil and church records of birth, marriage, and death. Indeed, for the vast majority of German ancestors, they are the only records available for genealogical research. The content and access for both of these records are quite similar, and are well discussed together.

Beginning Dates

German civil registration was, in large part, modeled after the local civil registration system instituted by Napoleon in France. However, he began that system in the 1790s, long before Germany existed as a single, unified country. Therefore, the concept of local civil registration of vital and related events began in German areas as a piecemeal process. The various German states began their registration at different dates, and often had different requirements, and different officials.

The earliest German areas to adopt civil registration were those under French control from the 1790s to 1815. Indeed, the inauguration of civil registration varied primarily by what areas the French controlled, so that after the defeat of Napoleon, and the waning of French control in 1815, many areas ceased regular government registration of births, marriages, and/or deaths. Sometimes local cities or districts may have continued the practice, even if the state did not require it.

Thus, the adoption of civil registration throughout German areas resembles a patchwork quilt. Even the nature of what was recorded, and how it was recorded, varies from place to place, and over time.

The following are the generally accepted dates when civil registration began in the respective German-speaking states. Keep in mind that the entire state may not have started at the same time, and that many of the earliest areas did not continue much past 1815:

Alsace, Lorraine, 1792
Luxembourg, 1795
Baden, Pfalz, Rhineland, 1798
Hamburg (portions), 1799
Hesse-Darmstadt, Hesse-Nassau, 1803
Westphalia, 1808

German Church Records

The most popular, and useful, source for tracing most German ancestors are church registers. Often these are the only records in which we will find information about our ancestors and their families in the old country. Most of our German ancestors did not own land, nor were they mentioned in probate records. Most German states did not have a regular census. Tax lists and other records are meager, incomplete, and difficult to access, if they exist at all.

Hence, the records of choice for documenting most Germans, especially before the late 19th Century, are the local records of birth, marriage, or death kept by the church. Unlike the United States, virtually every German resident belonged to a church and was recorded in its registers. Often there was only one church to 'choose' from, the state or established church. In many areas of German countries, there may have been two (sometimes three) churches, but in any given locality, the great majority of residents belonged to just one denomination (either Catholic or a protestant church, such as Lutheran or Reformed churches. Smaller church denominations, such as Mennonites, Baptists, or other religions, such as Judaism, comprised only a percent or two of the population, at most.

- On microfilm, usually through the Family History Library system
- At the current parish offices, where the original records may still reside
- At an archive, church or state, where the originals have been gathered
- By corresponding to the office which holds the originals
- By hiring a professional researcher to find and search the records for you

Limitations of German church records
- They are not available for all locations. Some have not survived, others are lost, many are not available on microfilm and can only be accessed on-site.
- They don't always provide as complete information as we are seeking, especially in the early years.
- They don't include everyone who lived in the parish; almost every town had some other persons of other faiths.
- Many church records have gaps in the baptismal records, or they don't begin as early as other records.

Contents of German baptismal records

Squeezing the most from church registers: A fictitious example

Suppose that the baptismal, marriage, and burial registers all begin in 1723. Heinrich and Maria marry in 1729, and have several children. Heinrich dies in 1768 and is easily recognized in the burial registers by his residence and widow's name. He was 64 years old at death, suggesting he was born about 1704. Now, a careful search of the earliest burial records identifies a Friedrich with the same last name as Heinrich had. This Friedrich died in 1741 at the age of 69, suggesting he was born in 1672. Further, Friedrich, recognizable by his residence and occupation, appeared as a sponsor for two of Heinrich's children. Depending on the frequency of the surname, and other information in the church books, it might be possible to make a case that Friedrich was the father of Heinrich. Perhaps his widow also appeared in the death records, and her name matched a baptismal sponsor as well. With enough information, carefully gleaned from the burial registers, as well as other sources, it may well be possible to suggest an earlier generation. It will often be at least sufficient to compile a more complete family group.

Germanic Immigration Bibliography

This bibliography has three parts: lists of immigrants, lists of emigrants, and reference books (those not listing persons). The first two parts focus on published books with names of many immigrants. Usually these lists identify at least 1,000 immigrants, unless the source was highly significant for a group, locality, or time period. Usually only books with statewide or greater coverage are listed. Several of the books have been reprinted, often several times. Where known, the most recent reprint date is given, but in any event, a reprint is identified. Articles in journals, and portions of books are seldom cited, but many have been consolidated in the works by Boyer, Tepper, or Yoder. In addition to regular bibliographic information, this list includes the reference number in Filby's Passenger and Immigration Lists Bibliography in [brackets] and, where known, the number of names in {braces}. Books not in Filby are cited: [----]; reference numbers followed by a star (*) indicate the source is not in the 1988 bibliography, but was assigned a number and indexed in a recent annual supplement to Filby's companion work, Passenger and Immigration Lists Index.

Published Immigration Sources

Major Index

Filby, P. William. Passenger and Immigration Lists Index, 10+ vols. Detroit: Gale Research, 1981_. An excellent index of 2,600,000 names found in more than 2,600 published sources. The first three volumes are a combined alphabetical index published in 1981. Supplemental volumes have been issued annually. There are also cumulated supplements for 1982 to 1985, 1986 to 1990, 1991 to 1995, and 1995 to 2000. Also on CD-ROM from Genealogy.com. This does not index official U.S. arrival lists, but many of the names are from post_1820 published sources.

HISTORIC·EMIGRATION·OFFICE
HAMBURG

The Historic Emigration Office.

Your ancestors came from Europe? Did e a German, Austrian or Eastern European nationality? Did ne to America between 1850 and 1914? Then you should visit – to discover a unique chapter in your family's heritage!
e our guest. In Hamburg, Germany's largest harbor city, in ly-opened Hamburg Historic Emigration Office, located in inating Museum of Hamburg History.

The office is located in the former Officer's Mess of the old steamship Werner. Here, trained researchers will process your individual request, searching through 274 microfilm files – the only complete historical record of Northern European emigration from 1850 – 1914 in existence. The names of nearly five million persons, who directly or indirectly left for the New World through Hamburg.

Give us the name of your ancestor and – as accurately as possible – the emigration year. Bring along any additional information you might have, from a family Bible, old letters or birth certificates. Every detail helps us find your ancestors.

Within just one hour we'll check whether your forefather's name appears on one of the ships' passenger lists. If we're successful you'll receive an official certificate with an excerpt of the original ship's list containing your ancestor's personal data – age, occupation, marital status, number of children and home city – as well as the name of the ship, its destination and date of sailing for the New World.

5 Mar. 1993

Several years ago, I came to your church and went through some old records there. Since that time, I have learned that one of my aunts who I never knew about before, may have died there between the time she came from Leikow, Prussia in 1893 and before the census of 1900.

Her name was META BARFELZ, dau. of CARL and AUGUSTA (KUNDE) BARFELZ.
I believe she was about 1 yr. old when she arrived in Bridgman.

Would you please be so kind as to go through these old records for that period and see if you can locate her death date and send me a copy of that record. I certainly would appreciate it.

Thank you so very much.

Dear Frances,

The enclosed is the only entry found in our book - Max Carl Herman You will note it does not list a mother. I did not find any mention of Meta or Augusta being buried from our church. It possibly might be in the Trinity, St. Joseph records - since they were here before we were established! Sorry I could not help you in this!

Sincerely,

Emily Zilke

Germany to America

I. Early German Immigrations up to 1683

A. Alsations and Hessians came with Huguenots to Port Royal, South Carolina in 1562.

B. Germans came to New Netherlands in 1626; the Governor, Peter Mimuit, was born in Wesel, Rhineland.

C. Germantown, Pennsylvania was settled in 1683 by passengers of the "Concord."

II. Palatine Immigrations

A. French surnames among the Palatines suggests that many French refugees fled a second time. Between May and November 1709, 32,000 Palatines arrived in London and 3,000 were sent to New York State by the English Government.

B. Germans in New York. There are some pre-Palatine settlements in New York. Newburgh-on-the-Hudson (Orange County) was founded by Palatines in 1708-9.

C. Palatines in Pennsylvania. Settlements began in 1709 and Swiss Mennonites came in 1710.

D. Germans in New Jersey. Tradition says that Palatines headed for New York were driven in Delaware Bay and landed in Philadelphia. They traveled to New York and founded Musconetcong Valley. Principal German settlements were in Hunterdon, Somerset and Morris Counties. South Jersey had German settlers long before 1700. They had come with Swedish settlers and lost their identity among them.

E. Germans in Maryland. Maryland Germans came from Pennsylvania, and others landed at Annapolis and Baltimore. West Maryland was settled by Pennsylvania Germans on their way to Virginia.

F. Germans in Virginia. Fourteen German families came in April 1714 and settled near Fredericksburg. Many Pennsylvania Germans settled the Shenandoah Valley.

III. Later German Immigrations

A. The Hessians. Hessians originated from the states of Braunschweig, Ansbach, Waldeck, Anhalt-Zerbat, Nesse-Cassel and Hanau. They were brought over by the British to fight the Colonists. Many deserted their ranks and settled in America. Many prisoners chose to remain in America. Of a total of 29,875, only 17,313 returned to Germany. Their regiment rolls can be found in Germany.

RESEARCHING IN GERMANY

Christa Hamil

Germany

I. Parish Records

As a rule parish records are kept in the parishes. However, in certain parts of Germany the older parish records were deposited in the State, City or special church archive. In some German states parish registers were duplicated and a copy was deposited in the State Archives: (Bavaria since 1807, Mecklenburg since 1740, Rhineland since about 1800), church district office, County or City office (Saxony). Sometimes printed records are available eg- Wuerttemberg. (Stuttgart 1692-1848, Calw, Esslinger, Ludwigsburg, Tuebingen.)

Most Protestant and Catholic registers began in 1600 with some as early as 1531.

II. Civil Records

A. Census Records. As a rule census records were destroyed after they were taken. The exceptions are Mecklenburg-Schwerin where census records (incomplete) were kept from 1496 - 1818. The first complete census dates 1819 and is kept in the Mecklenburg State Archive at Schwerin up to 1900.

B. Civil Registers. In 1874, Germany required civil records to be kept. In Rhineland, Westphalia and the Palatinate civil registers exist since 1800 (also parts of Hesse, Kurhessen and Badenia). After 1811 civil registers were also kept in Bremen and Luebeck; since 1849 in Anhalt; 1851 in Frankfurt-Main; 1856 in Hamburg.

C. Buergerbuecher. These lists contain names and dates of persons admitted to a city as burghers or members of the city council. They are usually deposited in the city or state Archives. They are important for research prior to parish records.

D. Tax lists are deposited with the city or state Archive.

E. Deeds and Wills. Older deeds and wills are deposited in the city or state Archives and recent ones are kept in the Courthouses. They are valuable for research prior to parish records. The "Amtsbuecher, Schuld- and Pfand-protokollen" collection of deeds is deposited in the Schleswig-Holstein State Archive, Schloss Gottorp near Schleswig and they date 100 years prior to parish registers.

F. Feudal records are deposited in the city and state Archives.

G. Other miscellaneous records are found in the city and state Archives

III. Military Records

A. Regimental rolls of the Hessians in America are deposited in the State Archive at Marburg-Lahn, Hesse, Germany. For units from Brunswick, Germany records are found in the State Archive in module provides unique features to you, and can be selected from the various menus in the main menuing system.  Below is a list of modules, each with an explanation of its features.  (This document may change from time to time as new modules are added to this system.)  The modules currently available to you are:

(N)onstop, (Q)uit, or (C)ontinue?
[`]=Menu3  VT52 3RxTxCD38N13Echo:N3mnp:03LogTo: Nothing3Alt-S ends Script

   offline reader will allow you to write responses and request file downloads.  These are assembled into a REP (reply) packet.  A REP packet is a file with the same filename as the QWK packet plus an extension of .REP.

   You now log back onto the BBS, select the Major QWK-mail menu and select upload of the REP packet.  You are requested to choose one of The Major BBS file transfer protocols for upload.  After the upload is complete, you can exit Major QWK-mail or log off the system.  The uploaded REP packet is queued behind other users' REP packets for processing.  It can take several minutes for your REP packet to be processed.  When the REP packet is processed, the reply messages are sent as if you did them online.  Requested files will be included in your next QWK packet.  You will be notified when processing of your REP packet is completed, if you are still online.

   MENU OPTIONS

   Here are the Major QWK-mail menu options:

   D - Download <bbs-filename>.QWK packet

   Downloads a QWK packet containing all messages you have not yet read
(N)onstop, (Q)uit, or (C)ontinue?
[`]=Menu3  VT52 3RxTxCD38N13Echo:N3mnp:03LogTo: Nothing3Alt-S ends Script

   Downloads a QWK packet containing all messages you have not yet read either online or via Major QWK-mail.  You can filter the messages which are downloaded by configuring your forum Quickscan parameters.  Major QWK-mail displays each forum and the number of messages included in the packet while the QWK packet is being built.

   Major QWK-mail will ask you to specify the download protocol.  After the download successfully completes, your current message pointers will automatically be updated so that your next download will only include new messages.

   U - Upload <bbs-filename>.REP packet

   Uploads a REP packet which you built using your offline reader.  You will be asked to specify the upload protocol.

   If you are still online, you will be notified when processing of your REP packet has completed.  This can take many minutes due to REP packets queued ahead of yours.

   A - Attachment toggle (currently <ON|OFF>)

   When ON, this option includes file attachments in your QWK packet.
(N)onstop, (Q)uit, or (C)ontinue?

   When ON, this option includes file attachments in your QWK packet.
   Normally, you would leave this option OFF to prevent downloading large file attachments which you are not interested in.  You can request download of a file attachment you do want in your next REP packet, by

Here is the information I already have on my German/Prussian ancestors. I am trying to get further and more accurate information on the family and ancestors of my grandparents. I would like to trace ancestors and perhaps find living relatives who I might correspond with.

Carl August BARFELZ (my grandfather)
born 12 Dec. 1864
Pomeran, Prussia (I assume--this is where he said he came from)

he was a twin -- other twin (Albert ?) died shortly after birth. also had two brothers -- one a minister and one owned a slipper factory. I do not believe they ever came to the United States

also had two sisters) Minna born 1872 married August RAMIEN who both came to U.S.) Amelia born 1877 married Frederick PATZLOFF his parents: Carl BARFELZ and Frederika DREFKE or TREFF. His mother died in 1877 when daughter Amelia was born. His father remarried.

married in 1888: Augusta KUNDE (my grandmother)
born 15 August 1864
her parents: Gottlieb KUNDE and Charlotte KNOPE
lived in Bublitz (?)

My grandfather was in the army. While in Germany, he suffered a serious accident to his head. My grandmother, his wife, Augusta, had had a daughter, Minnie, born, according to church records here, on 30 October 1884 at Leikow which is now Lejkowo in the provice of Koszalin, before this marriage and she had to give up the child to her brother Ernest KUNDE and his wife because her husband (my grandfather) was so seriously ill. A daughter, Anna was born to them on 23 December 1889 also at Leikow.

In May of 1893, my grandparents plus their daughter, Anna, and my grandmother´s mother, Charlotte KNOPE KUNDE (church records here show she was born at Klein Soltiko which now is Sulechowko in the provice of Kosalin) along with my grandmother´s brother, Ernest KUNDE and his family, came to the United States from the German port of Hamburg aboard the ship Polynesia. They landed in Baltimore, Maryland and came across the country to Bridgman, (Berrien) Michigan. Their passage was paid for by a man named GAST, and they worked out the passage for several years until they could buy land and work for themselves.

The only other information I have is names of places taken from some old photographs brought to this country by the RAMIEN family in 1921. They are:

Pollnow, Pommern, Landsberg, Konigsberg, Jerusalemer, Posen, Elbing, Braunsberg, Butow, Coslin.

Any information you can furnish or any leads you give me to gain further information on any of this family will be greatly appreciated.

Luther was barely 22 years old when he was killed in the Phillipine Islands in October 1944 in World War II. He was a Navy sailor aboard the U.S.S. Hoel that was sunk on October 27, 1944. Our mother died in Utah in 1998.

Before his death, Gust Dombrow had set up a trust fund for Iva in the Bridgman State Bank, which went under financially in 1929, as its most of its funds were apparently lost in the stock market crash.

On August 25, 1925, just two days after Gust's death, Fred W. Gast was appointed guardian of young Iva and her estate. Later, on October 10, 1925, with the court's approval, Mr. Gast resigned his right to guardianship of Iva and gave his consent for Gustave and Albertina Dombrow, paternal grandparents, to adopt her. While Iva's grandparents were given court approval to adopt her, Mr. Gast remained as guardian of her estate until June 17, 1931, when Charles H. Westphal took over as guardian. Then, at the age of 14, on January 28, 1936, Iva requested that Herbert E. Knapp be appointed her guardian. The court approved Mr. Knapp as guardian in September 1936.

Albertina Dombrow died of a stroke at her home on January 4, 1932. She is buried in the Ruggles Cemetery near Baroda.

Not long after Albertina's death in 1932, Grandpa Dombrow sold his farm in Jericho located at 1574 West Lemon Creek Road to Werner Mineta. He then went to live with Iva and Elizabeth and Herbert Knapp on their farm located at 6538 Becht Road. It is said that the Knapp's grew berries and grapes and had dairy cows on their farm. They also employed 30 workers at one time.

Gustave Dombrow Sr. died at the home of Herbert and Elizabeth Knapp in Coloma Township on January 6, 1937, and is buried beside Albertina in Ruggles Cemetery. near Baroda

In the 7th grade, while attending Clymer School, Iva drew a picture of a Japanese lady and a map of Michigan and wrote an essay. She won a trip to Detroit, but the Knapp's would not let her take the trip. On the Becht farm, Mother had a pet dog, a white Spitz, called Snowball.

Our parents, Iva Dombrow and Luther Shine would walk together from Clymer School located at Clymer and Hagar Shore Roads. They went to Rocky Gap Road Park to "neck". Mother was still living with the Knapp's at the Becht Road farm when she attended high school. She received 25¢ a week allowance for bus fare to high school and she walked home –that's when she met our father.

Mother graduated from Benton Harbor High School in 1940 although her official diploma says June 1941. Because she had enough school credits, Iva worked for the Griffendorf Distributing Company as a secretary, typist, and filer while still in high school. After high school, she went to work as a secretary-typist at Ross Carrier. She could type over 100 words per minute.

Mother and our father were married in June 1942 in the Coloma Methodist Church where Luther and RICHARD his ~~cousin~~, ~~Howard~~ Wooley, were first ushers. The Rev. Ray Laurence was the minister. The wedding reception was held in the Knapp's barn, which was located across the street from the Becht Road farm.

At the age of 21, on January 28, 1943, Iva officially released Mr. Knapp from his guardianship duties through the local court.

Herbert E. Knapp was born on October 8, 1891 and passed away on February 26, 1972. His wife Elizabeth Willamena (Peters) Knapp was born on November 26, 1890 and passed away in 1994 at the age of 103.

Clarence, the youngest of Gustave and Albertina's children, married Ida Marie Rennhack on June 8,

100
1994

Elsie Dombrow stayed behind in Chicago and later married Edward Stone there in April 1915. Her husband, Edward, was born May 28, 1892.

Gust, oldest son of Gustave and Albertina, married Margaret Frances Barfelz in Bridgman on May 12, 1918. Margaret was born November 6, 1894, in Baroda. On their marriage record, Gust's occupation is shown as clerk and hers is shown as a factory worker. Gust and Margaret's marriage is recorded in the marriage register of the Lutheran Church in Bridgman.

Family members say that Margaret Barfelz was called Grace before her marriage to Gust. Grace and her sister Anna lived together while they worked for Cooper Wells & Company in St. Joseph. The Company made men and women's hosiery. Both young ladies enjoyed social activities on the weekends. On Saturdays they went to the Silver Beach recreational park on the shores of Lake Michigan and on Sundays, they went to the Bluffs.

After their marriage and because Grace had contracted tuberculosis and was in poor health, Gust took her to Arizona and New Mexico where he thought the dryer climate might help her. They lived in Madrid, New Mexico, a booming coal-mining town of 2,000, where Gust worked as a bookkeeper for the company railroad that transported coal to Santa Fe. Their only child, our mother, Iva Frances Dombrow, was born in Madrid, New Mexico, on January 28, 1922. It's been said that Grace and Gust sent pistachio nuts from New Mexico to their families back in Michigan.

When Grace's condition worsened, Gust took her back home to Michigan, where she and our mother stayed with Grandma Barfelz, away from Gust. Grace died on January 21, 1923, at the home of her parents in Bridgman. (Her tombstone has the date of death as 1922 which is wrong.) Grace's funeral was held both in her parents' home and later that day in the Bridgman Lutheran Church. Grace's favorite flower was the snowball bush so her sisters planted a snowball bush next to her grave. Since it grew so tall, it may not still be there.

In 1989, family members recalled Grace's funeral.
"Great Grandmother Barfeltz made the burial dress for Grace. It was silver gray with tiny pearl beads on it. All of Grace's sisters helped to sew on the pearls. Anna (Grace's sister) washed Grace after her death in preparation for the funeral. Grace's casket was put against the left wall of the living room. This house is located at 10671 California Road, south of Bridgman. Grace is buried in the Bridgman Cemetery. Grace was survived by her husband, daughter and three sisters: Mrs. (Minnie) Charles Wyland of Chicago, Mrs. (Anna) Paul Pagel of Bridgman, and Mrs. (Rose) A. Froberg of Benton Harbor, and two brothers: Edward Barfelz and Max Barfelz, both resided in Bridgman."

While alive, Grace had a favorite chair, a wicker, square-backed rocker which Nora Dombrow Nielsen (Iva's cousin) now has". Gust and his baby daughter, Iva Frances Dombrow, went to live with his parents on their farm in Jericho. Iva attended elementary school at Hathaway School located on Hinchman Road in Jericho.

Two and a half years after Grace's death, Gust also died of tuberculosis on August 23, 1925, leaving Iva, our mother, an orphan. Gust is buried in the Baroda Cemetery because his family thought that Grace was responsible for his death and they did not want Grace and Gust buried together in the same cemetery.

The Dombrows of Lake Township

Gustave August Dombrow was born July 5, 1861/1863 in Louenberg, Germany. He came to America in 1878 or 1880 and settled in Chicago, Illinois, where he worked as a moulder in an iron works factory.

Albertina Henriette Waak was born July 5, 1861 in Pommern, Germany. She probably came to America in 1872 with her family and they also settled in Chicago. Superior court records show that Albertina's father, Gustave Waak, was naturalized in Chicago on Halloween, October 31, 1872.

On March 26, 1885, Pastor W. Boettcher married Gustave and Albertina in the First Evangelical Lutheran Church in Chicago. Albertina was the mother of 12 children, but only four are known to have reached maturity. They were Clara born August 5,1889, Gustave Wilhelm Rudolpho born May 25,1893, Elsa born November 20,1896, and Clarence born February 12,1904. All of them were born in Chicago and they lived on School Street.

On June 17, 1890, in the Cook County, Illinois circuit court, the senior Gustave Dombrow renounced his allegiance to the Emperor of Germany, pledged his allegiance to the United States and became a naturalized U.S. citizen.

On March 16, 1907, Gustave and Albertina's daughter Clara married Edward Lippert, Sr. in Chicago. Edward Sr. was born on January 29, 1884 in Germany.

Gustave and Albertina appear in the 1910 Census in Chicago on April 27th and sometime after that date they moved to Michigan.

Gustave and Albertina purchased "Eighteen and Ninety Two Hundredths (18 92/100) acres of land more or less" in Lake Township near Bridgman, Michigan, on October 5, 1911.

The land was described as "commencing at a stone at the quarter Post on the South line of Section four (4) Township six (6) South of Range Nineteen (19) West. Thence running along the South line of said Section West Twenty-six and thirty four Hundredths 26 34/100 chains to a Stone. Thence North Six and eighty six Hundredths (6 86/100) chains to an Iron Stake thence east Twenty six and Thirty four Hundredths (26 34/100) chains to an Iron stake. Thence South Six and eighty six Hundredths (6 86/100) chains to place of Beginning". It was located in an area called Jericho.

Family recollections about life on the farm:

> Albertina and Gustave had a smokehouse on their farm and a favorite was smoked goose in cheesecloth.
>
> The younger Gustave was called Gust and he invented a charcoal-based salve that people traveled all the way from Chicago to purchase. It was used to soothe working hands.
>
> Edward Dombrow (Clarence?) used to take his father lunch out in the fields on the Jericho Farm. One day, Gustave said to his son, "All the trouble I ever had never happened."
> Grandfather Dombrow (Iva Frances Dombrow's paternal grandfather) used snuff and Grandpa Barfelz (Iva's maternal grandfather) smoked a corncob pipe.

Augusta died in 1938 and Carl remained on the farm until his death in 1944. Both are buried in the Lake Township cemetery and have markers. Their son, Max and his family, occupied the homestead for a few years and then located elsewhere. Son Edward became the owner, and his son, Marvin, when he returned from serving overseas in WWI, modernized the house. In 206, his widow, Mildred (OTT) BARFELZ still resides there.

The BARFELZ children married as follows:

Anna	(1889-1980)	married Paul PAGEL
Rose	(1893-1985)	married (1) Albin A. FROBERG (2) Herman COLLINS
Grade	(1894-1933)	married Gustav DOMBROW

THE BARFELZ FAMILY

submitted by Fran (FROBERG) WOOLEY

The steam ship "Polynesian" left Hamburg, Germany on 7 May 1893 and arrived at Baltimore, Maryland, USA on 26 May 1893. Among the passengers were:

Carl BARFELZ	age 29	(husband)
Augusta BARFELZ	age 28	(wife-6 mos. pregnant)
Anna BARFELZ	age 7	(daughter)
Meta BARFELZ	age 1	(daughter-no further record)
Ernest KUNDE	age 30	(brother of Augusta)
Matilda KUNDE	age 28	(his wife)
Minna KUNDE	age 7	(niece)
Carl KUNDE	age 7	(son)
Paul KUNDE	age 4	(son)
Frederick KUNDE	age 1	(son-died at sea 14 May)
Charlotte KUNDE	age 55	(mother of Augusta & Ernest)

Other information on the passenger list indicated Carl was a laborer, could read and write English, his last residence was Kozsalin and the passage of $2 was prepaid; that he had never been in the U.S. before and was joining a relative in Bridgman by name of HAASE, was not under contract to labor and was in good health, not crippled.

These brave people had packed all they could carry and left their homes in Pommern, Germany to begin a new life in a strange land. Their passage was paid by Mr. GAST from Bridgman. Because of this arrangement, the new arrivals worked for Mr. GAST for two years until their debt was paid, and then began saving toward purchase of their own farms. The BARFELZ family first lived in Baroda, then later, purchased a 10-acre farm on California Road, about two miles south of Bridgman. In 1900, Carl became an American citizen. The KUNDES settled on a farm on Livingston Road.

The BARFELZ family attended the Immanuel Lutheran Church at Bridgman and the children attended the church school when weather permitted and shoes were available. The confirmation register of the church lists the names of Anna, Rose who was born in Baroda in 1893, and Grace born 1894. Two sons, Edward and Max were born later.

The passing of Mrs. (Gottlieb) Charlotte (KNOPE) KUNDE is listed as the sixth death in the church records and occurred on 20 March 1898. Her age was given as 72 years, 1 month, 18 days. She is buried at the Lake Township cemetery just north of the church and across the railroad tracks. No marker.

The home of the BARFELZ family never had electricity, indoor plumbing nor did they ever own an automobile. They raised things on their farm that supported the family: chickens, cows, pigs and the grain to feed them plus a large garden. They harvested several varieties of berries and took them to Bridgman to be shipped to Chicago and sold there. Augusta took extra eggs to town and traced for staples they could not raise, such as coffee, salt, flour and sugar. In this day and age (2006) they would have been considered "dirt-poor." They were a poor but proud self-sufficant family.

HISTORIC EMIGRATION OFFICE

March 18, 1993

Dear Mrs. Wooley,

thank you very much for your letter dated February 25, 1993. I was very disappointed to hear that you had sent us a request in 1990 asking us to do research on your ancestor BARFELZ and having sent us (as you stated) exact information, we had not been able to help you at that time. I am certain we make mistakes and do research some times without finding someone who is is the index...sometimes the handwriting is almost illegible.. but when we receive exact information with the name of the ship, it was hard for me to believe we had not been able to help you.

I wanted to solve this mystery, but since we cannot save our letters more than two yesrs, we no longer had your "request" from 1990. Strange also was the fact that we had no entry in our "check-book" for payment from you for the year 1989, 1990 and 1991. We may not have the letters from 1990, but we do have our entry-book for all letters that have arrived at our office. I am enclosing a copy of your entry Nr. 9216 which arrived at our office on January 23, 1990. This also may be a mistake, but according to this record, you never asked us to do research for you, so it was impossible for us to have found anyone in the first place.

Mrs. Wooley, you may have asked us at a later date to do research for you, but we have no entry for this request. If you like solving mysteries like I do and if you are still interested in a copy of the departure list for your family, we would send you the copies from our passenger lists for $15  which includes postage. On the copy of the arrival list you sent us, Mr. Barfels has the Christian name "Paul". On our list his name is Carl and the family name is spelled Bärfelz. We could also show you on a map where the family lived before emigrating from Germany. This is our usual service when a request and payment is made for us to do research.

Sorry about this mix-up and I hope to hear from you soon. We unfortunately have no computor to help us do the research. Therefore in case someone else does ask for information on this family, I will not be able to find it unless I remember that you sent it to us.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Sroka

 The cost for an entire year of research is $30, so we would send you the information we have at half-price.

THE BARFELZ FAMILY

submitted by Fran (FROBERG) WOOLEY

The steam ship "Polynesian" left Hamburg, Germany on 7 May 1893 and arrived at Baltimore, Maryland, USA on 26 May 1893. Among the passengers were:

Carl BARFELZ	age 29	(husband)
Augusta BARFELZ	age 28	(wife-6 mos. pregnant)
Anna BARFELZ	age 7	(daughter)
Meta BARFELZ	age 1	(daughter-no further record)
Ernest KUNDE	age 30	(brother of Augusta)
Matilda KUNDE	age 28	(his wife)
Minna KUNDE	age 7	(niece)
Carl KUNDE	age 7	(son)
Paul KUNDE	age 4	(son)
Frederick KUNDE	age 1	(son-died at sea 14 May)
Charlotte KUNDE	age 55	(mother of Augusta & Ernest)

Other information on the passenger list indicated Carl was a laborer, could read and write English, his last residence was Kozsalin and the passage of $2 was prepaid; that he had never been in the U.S. before and was joining a relative in Bridgman by name of HAASE, was not under contract to labor and was in good health, not crippled.

These brave people had packed all they could carry and left their homes in Pommern, Germany to begin a new life in a strange land. Their passage was paid by Mr. GAST from Bridgman. Because of this arrangement, the new arrivals worked for Mr. GAST for two years until their debt was paid, and then began saving toward purchase of their own farms. The BARFELZ family first lived in Baroda, then later, purchased a 10-acre farm on California Road, about two miles south of Bridgman. In 1900, Carl became an American citizen. The KUNDES settled on a farm on Livingston Road.

The BARFELZ family attended the Immanuel Lutheran Church at Bridgman and the children attended the church school when weather permitted and shoes were available. The confirmation register of the church lists the names of Anna, Rose who was born in Baroda in 1893, and Grace born 1894. Two sons, Edward and Max were born later.

The passing of Mrs. (Gottlieb) Charlotte (KNOPE) KUNDE is listed as the sixth death in the church records and occurred on 20 March 1898. Her age was given as 72 years, 1 month, 18 days. She is buried at the Lake Township cemetery just north of the church and across the railroad tracks. No marker.

The home of the BARFELZ family never had electricity, indoor plumbing nor did they ever own an automobile. They raised things on their farm that supported the family: chickens, cows, pigs and the grain to feed them plus a large garden. They harvested several varieties of berries and took them to Bridgman to be shipped to Chicago and sold there. Augusta took extra eggs to town and traced for staples they could not raise, such as coffee, salt, flour and sugar. In this day and age (2006) they would have been considered "dirt-poor." They were a poor but proud self-sufficant family.

Augusta died in 1938 and Carl remained on the farm until his death in 1944. Both are buried in the Lake Township cemetery and have markers. Their son, Max and his family, occupied the homestead for a few years and then located elsewhere. Son Edward became the owner, and his son, Marvin, when he returned from serving overseas in WWI, modernized the house. In 206, his widow, Mildred (OTT) BARFELZ still resides there.

The BARFELZ children married as follows:

Anna	(1889-1980)	married Paul PAGEL
Rose	(1893-1985)	married (1) Albin A. FROBERG (2) Herman COLLINS
Grade	(1894-1933)	married Gustav DOMBROW
Edward	(1897-1963)	married Lucy RUTZ
Max	(1909-1967)	married Pearl FINLEY

THE BARFELZ FAMILY

submitted by Fran (FROBERG) WOOLEY

The steam ship "Polynesian" left Hamburg, Germany on 7 May 1893 and arrived at Baltimore, Maryland, USA on 26 May 1893. Among the passengers were:

Carl BARFELZ	age 29	(husband)
Augusta BARFELZ	age 28	(wife-6 mos. pregnant)
Anna BARFELZ	age 7	(daughter)
Meta BARFELZ	age 1	(daughter-no further record)
Ernest KUNDE	age 30	(brother of Augusta)
Matilda KUNDE	age 28	(his wife)
Minna KUNDE	age 7	(niece)
Carl KUNDE	age 7	(son)
Paul KUNDE	age 4	(son)
Frederick KUNDE	age 1	(son-died at sea 14 May)
Charlotte KUNDE	age 55	(mother of Augusta & Ernest)

Other information on the passenger list indicated Carl was a laborer, could read and write English, his last residence was Kozsalin and the passage of $2 was prepaid; that he had never been in the U.S. before and was joining a relative in Bridgman by name of HAASE, was not under contract to labor and was in good health, not crippled.

These brave people had packed all they could carry and left their homes in Pommern, Germany to begin a new life in a strange land. Their passage was paid by Mr. GAST from Bridgman. Because of this arrangement, the new arrivals worked for Mr. GAST for two years until their debt was paid, and then began saving toward purchase of their own farms. The BARFELZ family first lived in Baroda, then later, purchased a 10-acre farm on California Road, about two miles south of Bridgman. In 1900, Carl became an American citizen. The KUNDES settled on a farm on Livingston Road.

The BARFELZ family attended the Immanuel Lutheran Church at Bridgman and the children attended the church school when weather permitted and shoes were available. The confirmation register of the church lists the names of Anna, Rose who was born in Baroda in 1893, and Grace born 1894. Two sons, Edward and Max were born later.

The passing of Mrs. (Gottlieb) Charlotte (KNOPE) KUNDE is listed as the sixth death in the church records and occurred on 20 March 1898. Her age was given as 72 years, 1 month, 18 days. She is buried at the Lake Township cemetery just north of the church and across the railroad tracks. No marker.

The home of the BARFELZ family never had electricity, indoor plumbing nor did they ever own an automobile. They raised things on their farm that supported the family: chickens, cows, pigs and the grain to feed them plus a large garden. They harvested several varieties of berries and took them to Bridgman to be shipped to Chicago and sold there. Augusta took extra eggs to town and traced for staples they could not raise, such as coffee, salt, flour and sugar. In this day and age (2006) they would have been considered "dirt-poor." They were a poor but proud self-sufficant family.

Augusta died in 1938 and Carl remained on the farm until his death in 1944. Both are buried in the Lake Township cemetery and have markers. Their son, Max and his family, occupied the homestead for a few years and then located elsewhere. Son Edward became the owner, and his son, Marvin, when he returned from serving overseas in WWI, modernized the house. In 206, his widow, Mildred (OTT) BARFELZ still resides there.

The BARFELZ children married as follows:

Anna (1889-1980) married Paul PAGEL
Rose (1893-1985) married (1) Albin A. FROBERG
(2) Herman COLLINS
Grade (1894-1933) married Gustav DOMBROW
Edward (1897-1963) married Lucy RUTZ
Max (1909-1967) married Pearl FINLEY

Hi Fran,

I received your letter and the form for the Bridgman Book Project last week. I put what I had together, emailed it to Ann and then combined our notes, etc. and came up with this. I'm sending you a copy as you requested.

I also had my son put 14 pictures on a CD that I sent with our "family story". I haven't worked on the Dombrow file in about twenty years and know that there must be more than what I have, but am currently working on a Shine line. Maybe someday I'll go back over the files and begin more research.

Hope this finds you well and out of the "hurricane zone". I look forward to a copy of your Barfelz submission.

Thanks for sending me the form.

Best regards,

Barbara

BOOK REVIEW

by Fran (Froberg) Wooley

The Heritage Museum and Cultural Center, St.Joseph, has just released "Memories of Yesteryear" a 285 page, paper-back book containing stories and memories of a variety of people in the area.

From the back cover: "Step back in time! Read the way it was in this anthology of interesting and captivating stories by local residents. These tales will refresh your feelings of earlier times and help you recall the pleasant moments you spent in yesteryear. Your youth, friends and locations and ambience will come flooding back and you will find your thoughts will be of loved ones at an earlier date.

"The stores cover many different views of growing up in our area more than half a century ago. These memories were solicited from Senior Centers, retirement homes and other places frequented by the elderly. Some were freely donated and others had to be reminded but they all came through with delightful tales of their youth.

"Curl up, have a cup of hot tea, and read and enjoy!"

The book sells for $17.95 plus $4.00 shipping and handling and can be ordered from the Heritage Museum. It is a delight to read!.

And when one is desperate to find a long lost relative, even finding that person on a tax list, a jury list, a member of some kind of committee --is sometimes the crack in the brick wall.

When a researcher spends the time and effort to visit a genealogy library, he or she wants to search through everything there because often, they are researching in more than just one state or locality. It would be great if the Coloma library could become one of the better genealogy resources in the area.

You could also ask for volunteers to help with the genealogy room. Someone in the area doing genealogy might possibly set up hours when they would be willing to assist researchers. Vertical files could be set up. A film reader would be a nice addition. Using the computer, a volunteer could, using one of the many genealogy software programs, put the info from "Glimpses of the Past" on a disc so a researcher could easily find their family. This could also be put on the library website.

Doing family history has ben my passion for the past 25 years. You might not be interested. But it is a growing hobby and with Coloma´s past, and the books that have been written about the area, the Coloma library could become an important stop for researchers.

I´ll try to meet with you next summer and discuss what I´m talking about. Thanks for listening.

Dear Chuck: Your last name escapes me right now, so hope it is OK to call you by your first name -- after all, I´m older than you!

The last time I was in the library to donate some items for the genealogy room, you mentioned that you felt some of the items I had brought in the previous summer were not genealogy related. I need to clarify why I brought them.

Ninety-nine percent of the items I brought were donated to the Coloma library by a research librarian here in Ft. Myers who, when I told him about our beautiful new building and not having many items in the genealogy room, selected items he had duplicate copies of and generously donated them. They are items that one would find in most genealogy sections.

I´m not trying to tell you how to run your library but I´ve been doing genealogy for almost 25 years and have spent thousands of hours in libraries all over the country. In order to pull researchers into your library, you need to have a variety of material on your shelves. I would like to offer some suggestions:

* Any flimsy society newsletter should be 3-hole punched and put into 3-ring binders and labeled.
* Other society paper-back quarterlies can be put into magazine holders and labeled - I use cut-down detergent boxes.
* Materials should be shelved in alpha order according to state, county and then city. The best libraries I´ve visited are set up this way so that when you research in a state, all the material for that particular state is all together.
* A section at the beginning of the collection would contain material covering more than one state, i.e., DAR records, atlases, NEHGS, Colonial Dames, The American Genealogist, family histories filed by surname, etc. Another section would contain materials from foreign countries, arranged alpha order.
* Run frequent articles in the Tri-City newspaper describing some of the items in the genealogy room such as all the Coloma High School yearbooks from __ to __, copies of the Coloma Courier and Tri-City Record covering __ to __ as well as any new acquisitions. I actually didn´t know these yearbooks and newspapers were available until just recently.
* Let patrons who are doing genealogy in the area know that you will accept the monthly or quarterly journals put out by societies they belong to and also their old copies of genealogy magazines.
* I have asked my family, after my passing, to donate all my research and my small genealogy book collection to the Coloma library. Let others know they also could do this with their holdings.

I hope you are keeping and filing all the newsletters from the North Berrien Historical Society. They could be 3-hole punched and put into binders. They have contained many interesting articles about the early history of this area.

Dear Frances Wooley,

I have several comments and questions for you. First, where did you get my name and address? It would be appreciated if you would have put that in your note. Yes, I am intrested in family history and can tell you if we are related. ~~So~~ I have enclosed a copy of my Kunde line. It doesn't look as if there is any relation. Sorry I cannot be of more help.

Swedish American Genealogist --

I am responding to the request in your June 1996 issue for assistance in completing the Chicago 1888 Swedish voter registration lists. I do not know if this information will help you, but am sending it along.

My grandfather, Olof Froberg, lived in Chicago. From his afidavit for naturalization #9374 filed with the Criminal Court of Cook County and dated 6 October 1896, he stated that he had been a resident of U. S. for 23 years and in state of Illinois for 16 years. At the time he signed this affidavit, he resided at 2457 Ontario St., Chicago, IL.

Perhaps this information will be of value to you.

Sincerely,

F. Froberg Wooley

3.1 Federal Court Records

The first naturalization act, passed in 1790 (1 Stat. 103), provided that an alien who desired to become a citizen of the United States should apply to "any common law court of record, in any one of the states wherein he shall have resided for the term of one year at least." Under this and later laws, and under varying requirements, aliens were naturalized in federal, state, and local courts.

Records of naturalization proceedings in federal courts are usually among the records of the district court for the district in which proceedings took place. These records may still be in the custody of the court, they may have been transferred to a National Archives Center (NAC) or a National Archives Field Branch, or they may have been transferred to the National Archives. They are all part of the Records of District Courts of the United States, Record Group 21.

A federal naturalization record usually consists of a declaration of intention, petitions, depositions, and a record of naturalization. The nature of the information in these common series is discussed first in this chapter, and the naturalization holdings of court records are identified by state in alphabetical order. There are some indexes, but the researcher should know where and when the subject of research became a citizen before beginning to look for documentation of naturalization.

3.1.1 Common Series of Naturalization Records

Declarations of intention are instruments by which applicants for U.S. citizenship renounced allegiance to foreign sovereignties and declared their intention to become U.S. citizens. Early declarations of intention usually show for each applicant name, country of birth or allegiance, date of the application, and signature. Some show date and port of arrival in the United States.

After 1906, a longer and more detailed form was used, including such information as applicant's name, age, occupation, and personal description; date and place of birth; citizenship; present address and last foreign address; vessel and port of embarkation for the United States; U.S port and date of arrival in United States; and date of application and signature.

A declaration of intention normally preceded proof of residence or a petition to become a citizen by two or more years, but the declaration was sometimes not required if the citizen had an honorable discharge from certain military service or had entered the country when a minor.

Naturalization petitions are instruments by which people who had declared their intention to become U.S. citizens and who had met residence requirements made formal application for U.S. citizenship. Prior to October 1, 1906, information on the petitions was limited to the petitioner's name, residence, occupation, date and country of birth, and port and date of arrival in this country. The amount of information given in these early petitions varies. After October 1, 1906, information includes name, residence, occupation, date and place of birth, citizenship, and personal description of applicant; date of emigration; ports of embarkation and arrival; marital status; names, dates, places of birth, and residence of applicant's children; date at which U.S. residence commenced; time of residence in state; name changes; and signature. Copies of declarations of intention, certificates of arrival, and certificates of completion of citizenship classes are often interfiled with petitions. After 1930, petitions often include the applicant's photograph.

Naturalization depositions are formal statements in support of an applicant's petition by witnesses designated by the applicant. The records indicate the period of the applicant's residence in a certain locale and other information, including witnesses' appraisals of the applicant's character.

Records of naturalization and oaths of allegiance document the granting of U.S. citizenship to petitioners. The early orders of admission to citizenship are often available only in the minute books of the court. In fact, entries for administration of oaths of allegiance have been found in unlikely places, such as a criminal minute book that happened to be on a clerks' desk at the time. Daily minutes are recorded chronologically, and most minute books have alphabetical indexes showing names of individuals appearing in the minutes. Later records of naturalization are in the form of certificates, often unnumbered, but chronologically arranged in bound volumes with indexes to surnames.

In some cases, all records for one person have been gathered together in a petition and record, which usually includes the petition for naturalization, affidavits of the petitioner and witnesses, the oath of allegiance, and the order of the court admitting the petitioner to citizenship.

Michigan

The Chicago Archives Branch has records of the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan (Detroit). Records relating to naturalization include declarations of intention, 1856–1949; naturalization depositions, 1911–18; naturalization petitions, 1837–1949; and register of declarations of intention, 1837–1916. Naturalization records of the U.S. Circuit Court for the district include declarations of intention, 1874–1906, and naturalization petitions, 1837–1906.

Naturalization records of the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Michigan (Marquette) include declarations of intention and petitions, 1887–1909, and an index, 1887–1915.

From the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Michigan (Grand Rapids) are naturalization record volumes, 1915–30, and declarations of intention, 1907—28. Arrival records are also available.

Hamburg, January 23, 1990

Dear Mrs. Wooley,

thank you for your letter dated January 4, 1990 . We have ship passenger lists of emigrants who sailed overseas directly from Hamburg or indirectly from Hamburg via other European ports covering the period from 1850 to 1929 (with the exception of January through June, 1853). Concerning emigrants who departed from Hamburg directly, however, these lists were compiled only for ships with more than 25 passengers until 1871. You may be interested to know that a considerable number of emigrants sailed via Bremen. Unfortunately the Bremen lists were destroyed by fire.

The Hamburg passenger lists can be consulted only with the help of yearly indexes in rough alphabetical order. To support our work, state the year of emigration as exactly as possible. To pinpoint the year, consult U.S. CENSUS RECORDS from 1900 and 1910, which you can order from your nearest public library.

Our research costs US-$ 30,00 or DM 60,00 for every year and every name (starting with a different initial) we have to research. For every further year we have to research, an additional US-$ 30,00 or DM 60,00 will be charged. Payment will also be required if our search is not successful.

Please enclose a personal check made out to the HISTORIC EMIGRATION OFFICE, and state your account number: 9216.

Upon receipt the research will be dealt with as soon as possible.

Yours sincerely,
Elizabeth Sroka
(Elizabeth Sroka)

P.S. There was no ship with the name Polyninc which left Hamburg for Baltimore in 1893, but I did check the two ships for Baltimore in May, 1893.. (Polynesia and Hungaria), but the name BARFELZ did not appear on the list. This means we would have to check the entire year and that would cost $30 as mentioned above. If you are certain they left from HAMBURG, then let us hear from you soon.

Come trace your roots in Hamburg

We can help discover your European heritage

. . . the most unique collection of emigrant data in Europe

Is this the story of your family's heritage?

Millions of Europeans answered the call: Dutch and Scandinavians, Russians and Poles, Irish and Germans, all following their dream of a new life in America.

During the middle of the 1800's, the trickle of hopeful emigrants from Europe's hinterland swelled to a human flood in her largest harbors, where countless travelers elbowed for a coveted ticket on a trans-Atlantic ship – in Le Havre and Antwerp, in Rotterdam, in Bremen and Hamburg.

The emigrants' motives were as varied as were their nationalities. By the mid-19th century, most were driven by economic and social reasons to leave their homelands – political or religious grounds were of secondary importance. They were a colorful mixture: farmers, craftsmen and merchants, adventurers and fortune hunters, from all nations and all walks of life united in one common goal: The United States.

A long and dangerous journey lay ahead of them. Many ships never reached the safety of American harbors. Disease, privation and hunger claimed many passengers. A crossing took several weeks.

However, the dangers facing the emigrants started long before their ship set sail. The number of berths on America-bound liners was far less than that of waiting emigrants, especially during depression years. The emigrants were forced to spend long weeks in strange harbors, easy prey for thieves, gamblers and swindlers.

Hamburg had long been a commercial center, but also one with a conscience. In 1850 the "Hamburg Association for the Protection of Emigrants" was founded to protect the city's migrant guests. Five years later the city enacted far-reaching legislation: Emigrants were counseled, fed and given medical care, housing for up to 5,000 was constructed. But above all, every ship's agent was required to give the authorities a complete list of all passengers, with names, sex, age, occupation and home city.

This list was the origin of the Emigrant Lists, a treasure of America's heritage which has survived intact until today.

The Hamburg Fischmarkt

Selling smoked fish to tight fists

The Fischmarkt in St. Pauli has seen some strange characters in its day, and its day goes back to 1703. The odd' uns include magicians and musicians, for whom the Sunday morning crowds as they file past are a never-ending audiance. They also include market stallholders. Competition is the mother of invention and there is no shortage of competition on the street market extending from Hafentreppe to Fischereihafen.

Amid the crowds of visitors to the market, and on busy Sundays they can number up to about 100.000, you need nowadays to be more original and more convincing than the competition in your sales pitch.

And original they are. For example Banana Fred. He performs from the back of a truck and there are no prizes for guessing what he sells. “Five, five, five!” he yells, putting bright yellow brunches of bananas into a plastic bag. And when he shouts “There, there, there!” and his voice sounds like sandpaper, he throws half a dozen bananas at the crowd which is evidently more interested in the entertainment than in his yellow bananas.

For all nightouters and early risers its well worth getting there early – the market opens at 6 a.m. – to see how the people cheerfully mill around in the narrow streets, filing past market stalls selling fish rolls, Turkish carpets, eels or second-hand grammophone records.

Fischmarkt in Hamburg St. Pauli, tis means the smell of fish, the screech of seagulls and a sunny Sunday morning!

The Dom

Giant Funfair on Heiligengeistfeld

Hamburg's traditional Dom dates back to 1329, when merchants and shopkeepers set up stalls around the Mariendom church. After the church was torn down, the “Dom” changed its location several times, finally coming to Heiligengeistfeld around the beginning of this century. Today over 300 various attractions vie for the visitor's attention along the four-kilometre-long carnival street, and nearly nine million merry-makers crowd the Dom every year.

The Dom is fun for youngsters and oldsters alike! Three times a year – in spring, summer and before Christmas – the Heiligengeistfeld is home to the Dom (pronounced dome), Hamburg's colourful, rollicking carnival and the largest public festival in northern Germany. The numerous attractions include carnival rides guaranteed to tickle the staunchest stomach, countless games of chance, sideshows and souvenir stands.

There are ample attractions for the palate as well: hot apple turnovers, candied fruits, candy floss (cotton candy) and a herring sandwich, all washed down with a cool local beer! The view of the Dom and surrounding Hamburg from the top of the big wheel is unforgettable.

From the moment you arrive

…in Hamburg you feel the difference: a thriving metropolis with friendly Old World charm. Acres of green city parks, broad boulevards, the picturesque downtown Alster lake, exceptionally clean and safe streets, subways and busses. Glass-roofed shopping malls, fine continental restaurants, cozy coffee shops and gemütliche pubs. If you're looking for cosmopolitan elegance stroll along the exclusive Jungfernstieg. For a unique look at one of Hamburg's most beautiful sides, take an excursion boat cruise on her lakes and willow-lined canals. Rediscover your childhood at Hagenbeck's, the world's first wildlife park, where flowers, and not cages, separate you from the animals. Attend the State Opera, one of the world's finest. And take in the famous Reeperbahn, risqué, bawdy, colorful – but safe! Whatever you want, Hamburg has it all!

In Hamburg life is worth living.
